

Collaborative Notes App - What We Need

So we need a notes app for our team. Right now everyone is just using different tools and it's a mess. We need something where people can work on notes together at the same time. Like when one person is typing, others can see it happening live. Users should be able to create accounts and log in. We'll have different people - some who can edit notes and some who can only read them. Maybe we need admins too who can control everything. The notes should have formatting like bold and italics and stuff. People should be able to share notes with each other and set who can read vs who can edit. We want to see who's working on a note right now. We need to organize notes somehow. Maybe folders or categories. And search so you can find notes quickly. The interface should feel nice and be easy for people to use, even non-technical people. Oh and it needs to work on phones and computers. Performance is important - should load fast and updates should be instant when multiple people are editing. Security - we need to protect user data and make sure people can only see notes they're allowed to see. We want this ready pretty soon. Like soon. We're losing a lot of time with our current setup. Actually let me add - we should be able to see edit history and who made what changes. And comments would be good so people can suggest things without changing the actual note. I think those are the main things we need. Let me know what else you need to know about.
